Ways to Limit Direct Marketing You May Receive from Outside Sources

There are outside agencies and companies, including national consumer credit reporting agencies, which are in the business of compiling mailing lists for purchase by marketers. You may wish to have your name removed from many of these lists by following the procedures outlined below.

Direct Marketing Association Member Companies

To remove your name from direct mail or telemarketing lists of members of the Direct Marketing Association (DMA), send a written request with your name, address, and social security number (if it was included in the mailing you received) to the Direct Marketing Association. The DMA is responsible for notifying its members (i.e., the agencies and companies that compile mailing and telemarketing lists) that you want your name removed from the lists they sell.

Your name and address remains in the DMA's consumer exclusion files for five years.

DMA Mail Preference Service

P.O. Box 643
Carmel, NY 10512

DMA Telephone Preference Service

P.O. Box 1559
Carmel, NY 10512

Or contact the Direct Marketing Association via email at www.dmaconsumers.org.

National Consumer Credit Reporting Agencies (Credit Bureaus)

If you want to reduce the number of credit offers you receive, contact the National Consumer Credit Reporting Agencies at 1-888-567-8688 (1-888-5-OPTOUT). Financial institutions and other companies provide information to the Credit Bureaus for credit verification, fraud control purposes, and prevention of identity theft. You may direct these agencies not to sell or share this information about you for marketing purposes. You must register your own name and address with these organizations, because they cannot process any requests from us. Be sure to include any variations of your name, address and other information that have appeared in mailings or telephone calls that you have received.
